A Message from the Mayor

On behalf of the citizens of Vancouver, and my colleagues on City Council, I want to encourage you to visit our wonderful city.

Vancouver is blessed with natural beauty: a deep and sheltered harbour, beautiful beaches with a view of the north-shore mountains and a mild climate. While we are developing into a sophisticated world-class city we always try to respect our natural ambience. We are very proud of the reputation Vancouver enjoys as one of the world's most beautiful and unique meeting destinations. There are many educational, cultural and recreational activities that complement the restaurants, shopping and entertainment opportunities in our multicultural City. Most importantly, the people of Vancouver are always pleased to assist visitors and ensure that their time with us is a special one.

We hope that Vancouver has the opportunity to welcome you in 2010.

Sincerely,

Gregor Robertson
